About Us

Escape Quest AG was founded in January 2015. Not only was Escape Quest one of the first companies to offer escape room experiences in Switzerland, but it was also the first provider to organize a variety of team-building activities. Since its inception, Escape Quest has been the market leader in corporate events.

Escape Quest offers a range of challenging and interactive entertainment options in the field of puzzle games. We are happy to tailor our offerings to your specific preferences to make your event unique and unforgettable.

About the product

The Unseen Future is an engaging crime-solving game that can be played either as a standalone activity or combined with a dinner. Participants are challenged in small groups of 5-6 people to solve various puzzles in order to crack a murder case. Each team is provided with a detective kit containing props to help them unravel the mystery. Additionally, every participant gets access to the crime scene (an escape-room-style set) on-site. The teams are guided and supported by experienced moderators or professional actors (depending on the event version). The team that solves the case first is celebrated as the winner and awarded unique medals.

This activity can be held in restaurants, offices, conference rooms, or any venue of your choice, offering flexibility and convenience wherever you are in Switzerland.

The game can be facilitated in either German or English, and we can prepare the game materials in multiple languages.

How it works:

During the event, your team will take on the role of detectives in an exciting criminal case. Divided into smaller groups, the participants will portray investigators from different countries. The team members must collaborate to solve all the puzzles and answer the key questions:

Who killed the fortune teller? What was the time of death? Which weapon was used by the murderer? And what is the motive of this murder?

Group Division: The event is conducted as a friendly competition. The groups work together on the same case, and collaboration between teams is encouraged.

Versions: The Unseen Future can be played with or without actors. In the version without actors, a moderator explains the rules, monitors the gameplay, provides hints, and presents the solution at the end. In the version with actors, three professional performers stay with the participants throughout the event, act out various scenes, and assist them in character.

Organization: We prepare each event in advance by contacting the venue and coordinating all organizational and logistical details.

Preparation: On the day of the event, we set up an interactive, portable crime scene (3 x 2.5 meters). After the event, we dismantle the scene, pack up all props, and leave the venue clean and unchanged.

The Unseen Future is a blend of interactive theater, escape room, and Cluedo-style game, suitable for all age groups.

Main Benefits:

Immersive Experience: Step into the shoes of a detective and immerse yourself in a thrilling murder mystery, where every clue and revelation brings your team closer to solving the case.

Flexible Locations: Whether in your own office, conference centre or a restaurant, "The Unseen Future" transforms any space into an interactive crime scene, allowing for a unique experience.

Professional assistance: Engage with experienced actors or moderators who bring the storyline to life, adding depth, authenticity, and fun to your investigative journey.

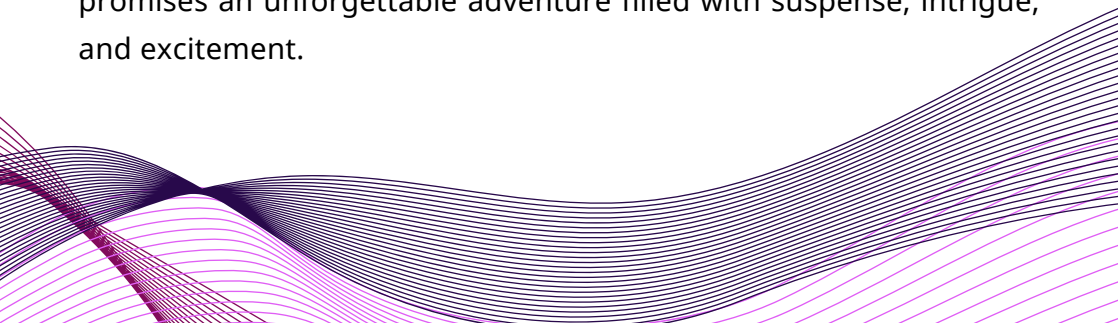

Team Building: Collaborate with your team to uncover clues, solve puzzles, and crack the case together. Fostering communication, teamwork, and critical thinking skills.

Trust Building: become a team and discover the individual strengths of your colleagues.

Engaging Fun: Enjoy an entertaining break from work. Relieve stress, boost morale, break the ice, and establish closer contact between team members.

Easy preparation: We handle all logistics, from setting up the crime scene to preparing the event plan together with the location of your choice, ensuring a seamless and hassle-free event.

Memorable Experience: With over 20 puzzles, an interactive crime scene, and captivating storytelling, "The Unseen Future interactive" promises an unforgettable adventure filled with suspense, intrigue, and excitement.

Additional Services

In addition to the unique event and the positive emotions of the participants, you can incorporate something extra into our standard program. Since each show is led by either professional actors or moderators, we have the capability to add some extra excitement to further enhance the overall experience.

Additional Scene: We can incorporate an additional scene into the event, either before it begins or after its conclusion. An extra scene can become either a welcoming warm up or a personal wrap up to the main event. Can be booked for all versions of the event.

Additional Moderator: Do you feel the need to have some additional help during your event? We can bring an additional moderator that can give more personalised attention and touch for your event.

Medals for the non-winners: Would you like all the participants to receive medals to have this event in their memories for even longer? We can create and print medals in different colours, shapes and sizes with your logo or personalised text engraved on them.

Special Presents and Decorations: Are you celebrating a special event and wish to provide participants with something extra? We can create employee gifts, arrange helium balloons, or organize any necessary presents and decorations according to your preferences.

Additional Services

Personalisation: Do you want one of your colleagues to become a suspect in this case? or, maybe, do you want the crime scene to look like your office? Do you want us to include personal informations about your group or individual participants in the plot? share your ideas and we will make this event even more unique for you!

Requirements for the venue

1. Access

Event venue: The event venue must be accessible 3 hours before the start of the event for setup and 1.5 hours after the event ends for dismantling. If this is not feasible, we need to discuss it in advance and find an acceptable solution when signing the offer.

Unloading and loading: The event venue must be directly accessible by car for unloading and loading.

If there is no direct access to the entrance of the venue, the customer undertakes to organise the transportation of all props and personnel safely and will bear all associated costs.

2. Parking spaces

We require a parking space where we can park our minibus (Mercedes Vito) or two cars during setup, the event, and dismantling.

If there is no suitable parking space available, we will park our minibus/cars in an available space/nearby spaces and invoice you for the parking costs along with other event expenses.

3. Venue

Version with actors: The venue must either be exclusively reserved for the event (no other customers should be served in the same area), or a separate room/location must be available for the event.

Version without actors: It is advantageous if the venue is exclusively reserved for the event. If this shall not be possible, a part of the premises must be used exclusively for the event.

4. Crime scene

We need space for the crime scene at the corner of the venue/in a separate room next to the space where all players are seated. The crime scene itself measures 2.5 x 3 meters. Having more space would be advantageous for players to have better access to the crime scene. We recommend having 3.5 x 4 meters available.

We don't create a mess or drill holes. We build 2 flexible walls with aluminum structures and place all furniture and props inside.

Floor: For uneven floor surfaces (wood, tiles, grass), we bring foam mats and install them under our flooring.

Light: It is advantageous to have sufficient light at the crime scene. If the existing light is not sufficient, it would be beneficial to use some spotlights. If this is not possible, we can gladly bring the spotlights ourselves.

If there is not enough space for the crime scene and our team gets to know about it on the day of the event, Escape Quest AG is entitled to conduct the event without the crime scene or only with parts of it and reduce the number of puzzles for all groups.

5. Playing area

Tables: Each group must sit at a separate table. If this is not possible, two teams could sit at the same table (Group A on the right side and Group B on the left side).

Light: There must be sufficient light for the players to read all documents. If this is not possible, it would be advantageous to organise additional table lamps in addition to the normal lighting.

Event plan: Depending on the game version and catering model, we will create a schedule for your event. This schedule must be confirmed by the organisers and the venue at least 1 week before the event.

We need the floor plan and table placement at least 2 weeks before the event by email for confirmation. For this purpose, we can gladly contact the venue directly and clarify all technical and organisational questions.

6. Technical room

We need access to a separate room (this can be a personnel or technical room) for packing materials, storing props, as well as for breaks and costume changes for our team.

7. Music

It would be advantageous if an internal music system is available that we can use for background music. If there is no internal system or it cannot be used, we will bring our own boombox.

8. Contact person

We need a contact person on-site who is responsible for the event and will be present on the day of the event.

We understand that each venue and event is unique. Our experienced team will individually assess all necessary requirements and, in case of difficulties or uncertainties, strive to find alternatives or compromises.

Creating an individual plot

The general mechanics of the event remain unchanged. However, the plot and story are completely redesigned to be personalised for the customer. For instance, it could revolve around a murder of a corporate hero or mascot.

Each monologue is crafted individually, and all riddles are designed to align with the chosen theme and difficulty level. The game is fully branded to suit the customer's needs. Such a customised game can be utilised for larger companies, special events, or marketing purposes.

Creating a new storyline and monologues for the actors

Designing the riddles and developing the gameplay

Developing the crime scene and its elements

Conducting rehearsals with the actors/moderators

Testing the new game with test groups
